Animal Pest Management Services, Inc. has served Southern California as a leading authority on precision pest management for over 30 years. Our biologists, are experts in environmental impact assessment and damage management of all animal and insect pests. They have developed state-of-the-art precision pest management programs, that guarantee effective control and removal of animal and insect pests while ensuring that the most humane and ecologically sound methods are used.

APM technicians are State Certified Pesticide Applicators, state licensed in trapping and extensively trained in pest identification, damage recognition, management methods, and safety.

ANIMAL OR INSECT PEST PROBLEMS?

Animals are an important part of our environment, and add to the beauty of our world in the proper wild settings. However, wildlife can become destructive pests damaging landscaped areas, homes and other buildings, and commonly contribute to erosion, slope failure and water loss. Additionally, they often carry diseases such as: Bubonic Plague, Murine Typhus, Rabies, Histoplasmosis, Salmonella (food poisoning), Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever and others.

Insects greatly outnumber mammals but most are beneficial. However, there are a few nuisance pests that can manage to invade your home and prove to be harmful with a bite or sting.

Our Biologists developed Precision Pest Management Programs that Guarantee effective control and removal of animal and insect pests!

APM SOLVES YOUR PEST PROBLEMS WITH GUARANTEED RESULTS.
